Message

These words of wisdom by Lord Tennyson enunciate perfectly the paradigm shift one witnesses in legal education in the new millennium. Liberalization, globalization and homogenization of the world community make new demands and pose fresh challenges to our established systems and practices and, therefore, it is time to drop the old stereotyped notions of law, state and governance of Austinian tradition and to aim at a 'Brave New World' of equity and justice.

Lala Hansraj Phutela College of Law, Sirsa has been established to provide the best of infrastructural facilities and academic inputs to train prospective prospective lawyers who would be socially sensitive and professionally adept. Our main emphasis is on practical training of the students in technical skills of the profession through Moot Courts, Seminars, Project Reports, Expert Lectures, Work in Lawyer's Chambers, Court visits, etc.

We at LHP College of Law understand that perfection is like a moving target which one always tries to hit. With the dedication of the faculty, the students and the staff, and the cooperation of the management, we know that past laurels and achievements are not the halting stations but stepping stones to take further leaps towards higher level of excellence.
